Origami Craze

Thank you for your purchase of Origami Craze origami paper!

We have taken the most popular origami designs from around the world and placed them within the pages of this book.

When most people think of "origami," the picture that usually jumps to mind is that of the paper crane. The crane, which represents luck, hope and happiness, has come to be a highly-recognized symbol in the West of the ancient paper-folding tradition.

In reality, say masters of origami, the only limit to what can be created with a square piece of paper is the imagination of the artist. From simple animal shapes that can be executed by children as young as three years to stunning and intricate geometrical designs, origami is an art form that is embraced by many cultures today.

We hope that you will have hours of fun learning this one of a kind art form known as origami!

This is most easily accomplished by unfolding two of the sides (at a time) folded in the previous step, and refolding with the valley folds shown. Note that this illustration is shown from the bottom side.

37. A Red Flower

Both sides of the hexagon piece of paper are coloured.

This is the back of the paper. Turn the paper.

Make mountain- and valley-folds over the 6 lines. Unfold each fold after you made one.

First, make 2 valley-folds below, at the 2 arrows. Make these folds from the edge to the center of the paper. Then, make 2 mountain-folds on the lines next to the first lines. Continue making valley- and mountain-folds until the 2 lines on top, on the left.

Make a valley-fold over the yellow line.

Unfold the model.

Now the center of the paper has to be folded down over the yellow lines. These are the lines you made with the valley-fold of step 4.

Here a part of the center is folded down already.

Press the outside of the model back in the shape it had in step 4, but now with the center of the paper folded down.

Make an inside reverse fold over the yellow lines. Do the same with the other 5 petals.

The flower is ready!

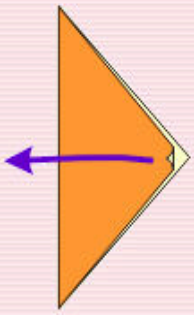
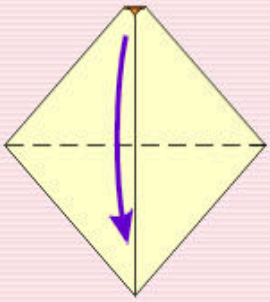
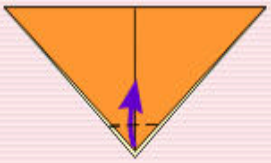
Fold the left point to meet the right point.



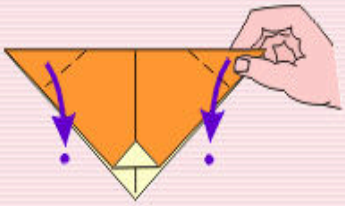
2 Unfold.



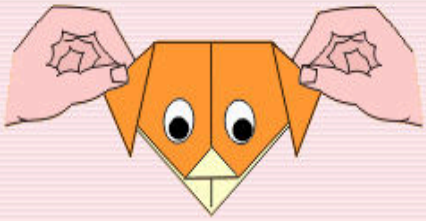
3 Fold the top point down to meet the bottom point.



4 Now there are two layers.
Fold the top layer up a little bit, making a tiny triangle for a mouth.



5 Fold both the side corners down to the dots to form the ears, as shown. (The ears will cover part of the face.)



6 Draw a face. If you hold it like this, you can move your hands together and back to make the dog "talk."
